

Prof. Ashok Goel

Brief Bio: Prof. Ashok Goel obtained his Ph.D. in Computer and Information Science from the Ohio State University in 1989, and joined the Computer Science faculty at Georgia Institute of Technology the same year. In 1998, he was a Visiting Research Associate Professor at Rutgers University and a Visiting Scientist at the NEC Research University. He has also served as a Technical Consultant to NCR. He presently is an Associate Professor of Computer and Cognitive Science at Georgia Tech and leads its newly re-established AI Laboratory. Additional information about his research can be found at <http://www.cc.gatech.edu/aimosaic/faculty/goel> and he can be contacted at goel@cc.gatech.edu .